THE BATTLE RAGING TODAY.

BEGAN THIS MORNING AT SANTIAGO.

Reported American Vessel Blown Up--Expeditions Against Cuba.

NEW YORK, June 3.—A Madrid dispatch says: The Elpais prints a rumor that the American fleet has forced an entrance to Santiago harbor. It is discredited here.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—It is reported here one of the American cruisers was blown up at Santiago today.

LONDON, June 3.—A dispatch says that three Spanish gunboats convoying merchant vessels arrived at Cienfuegos yesterday.

NEW YORK, June 3.—The Tribune posts the following bulletin: Port au Prince news has reached here that a battle began at Santiago before 9 o'clock this morning.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—It was said at the close of the cabinet meeting that war will be pushed most energetically. Expeditions against Cuba and Porto Rico will be hurried forward; no terms of peace will be considered until Porto Rico as well as Cuba is in our hands.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Upon the highest authority it is stated that 35,000 troops are on the water ready to land at Santiago or San Juan, at a moment's notice.

KINGSTON, June 3.—The government is exercised over our dispatch boats, whether to regard them as belligerents and allow them to touch the same ports but once in three months. It is urged they carry official dispatches as well as press news. Attorney General will not decide and imperial ruling has been asked by cable.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—The Bennington has been ordered from Honolulu to San Francisco to convoy third expedition of troops to Manila.

CAPTAIN SIGSBEE.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Auxiliary cruiser St. Paul, Captain Sigsbee, arrived here unexpectedly this morning with thirty-nine Spanish prisoners of war, captured on prizes, from Key West. They were turned over to Austrian consul for shipment home.

CAPE HAYTIEN, June 3.—The report that a revolution has broken out in Santa Domingo is confirmed. The supposed Cuba expedition from here being really a departure of Domingan revolutionists.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—Schley's report from Santiago, read at the Cabinet meeting today. It says there is no reason to doubt that Cervera's fleet is in Santiago harbor. The American fire was to develop the enemy's batteries; in that respect it was entirely satisfactory. None of our vessels were hurt and no men injured.

HAVANA (via London), June 3. A small force of insurgents attacked Santiago outposts yesterday but were repulsed with loss of 68 killed and wounded.

Report comes here from apparently authentic sources at Port Antonio, that a fleet of sixteen vessels will be off Santiago tomorrow to reinforce Cervera.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—Merritt's force is now complete. With the Iowa and Texas regiments he will have 20,000 men. All regiments filled, so all other orders are countermanded now. New charters for transports made today.

Colonels Babcock and Hughes have been promoted to brigadier generals and sent to Merritt's staff.

Regiments from Virginia and Kentucky will be sent to San Francisco for Philippine service if the states can equip them.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The Tenth and Fifteenth Iowa and Tenth Tennessee Volunteers, ordered to go to the Philippines, have reported as ready to move from Chickamauga at once.

KINGSTON, June 3.—The Bausan, an Italian warship, sailed ostensible for target practice, but really to Port au Prince to demand immediate payment of indemnity due Italian subjects, which was recently agreed upon.

ARRESTED FOR ASSAULT.

GEORGE C. RICHARDS, DWIGHT WAY, TAKEN TO JAIL.

Attempts to Punish a Jap for Alleged Injuries to His Son.

George C. Richards was arrested last night and taken to Oakland. It seems that last Sunday evening his 13-year-old son became involved in trouble with a Japanese who keeps a bamboo shop near Dwight way station. The father took his son's part, and has been awaiting a chance, which occurred last night, to administer punishment to the Jap. As the latter got off the 6:30 train, Richards, who had been drinking heavily, saw him and immediately started after him with a revolver. The bystanders succeeded in taking the weapon from him, but not without a great deal of difficulty. Mrs. Richards, who resides up stairs over the Dwight way station, tried to get her husband indoors but did not succeed. He was taken into custody by Deputy Marshal George Woodsum, and removed to the county jail, where he still awaits a preliminary hearing.

Mrs. Richards is suffering from nervous prostration, and was so excited that a local physician had to be called to quiet her. The 13-year-old boy has been a source of great trouble to his parents, and it is thought that this is inducing the father to drink. Although so young he has been in jail four times, and is constantly in some kind of trouble. The mother has wanted to send him where he could be disciplined, but his father has constantly objected, and at the boy's last trial promised to look after him better in the future.

MARRIED IN PHILADELPHIA

Two Prominent Berkeley Young People.

About a month ago Miss Etta Bartlett accompanied by her sister Lulu, went east, where they met their father, who accompanied them to Philadelphia, and there on May 21st Miss Etta Bartlett was united in marriage to Lieutenant Robert McCleave, United States Army. The engagement was announced some time ago, hence this step is no surprise to their Berkeley friends. Lieutenant and Mrs. McCleave are stopping in New York, where he awaits orders from headquarters. Mrs. McCleave's father and sister Lulu are with her, and will remain for the present. They will probably spend the summer visiting relatives in the east.

The newly-wedded couple are well known in Berkeley, having resided here since childhood. Mrs. McCleave is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bartlett of 2207 Blake street, and Lieutenant McCleave is a son of Captain and Mrs. William McCleave, who reside on Walnut street, North Berkeley. He entered the United States Army four years ago, and has risen rapidly. He went south with the First Infantry, but is to be transferred, which order he awaits now.

Lieutenant and Mrs. McCleave take with them the best wishes of their many Berkeley friends.

B. H. SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

102 GRADUATES GET THEIR COVETED DIPLOMAS.

Gen. W. H. L. Barnes Delivers a Stirring Address to the Young Graduates.

The graduating exercises of the Berkeley High School, held in Shattuck Hall last night, were the successful closing of a year of hard work. The class had decorated the hall with class colors, combined with American flags, and this, together with the girls in their dainty white frocks and the gentlemen in conventional black, made a picture both inspiring and impressive. The hall began to fill before 7 o'clock and by 7:45 it was crowded.

Promptly at 8 the class marched in and took their places, keeping time to music by the orchestra. Last in line were three soldier boys, members of the class, who had enlisted and are now camped at the Bay District track waiting to be sent to the front—Fred Berger, Earl Nutting and Gustaf Gustafson. As they stepped upon the stage they were greeted with enthusiastic applause.

After a selection by the orchestra Rev. John Coyle offered prayer, followed by another orchestral selection. General W. H. L. Barnes was then introduced by the President of the Board, Mr. Robertson. In his address he said, in part: "I am glad to see the young men in the uniform of their country. The main feature in life is looking backward. Youth has not that privilege, but it has anticipation; all is life, love and beauty, illumined by promises. There are no clouds, and when you look back it will seem as if you had lived and learned a great deal.

"I am glad to have been able to add my little quota to my country in the Civil War; glad to have seen the changes that have taken place in the past few years. But it makes me angry with everything to find myself relegated to the sidewalk brigade in this time of war. These young people are going to take part in marvelous changes, political, geographical and social.

"This war is only the beginning of a drama of life about to be enacted. War is not unmixed with evil; but if it has only accomplished one thing, the uniting of the American nation, it is worth all the treasure spent and the precious lives sacrificed. Who would have dreamed thirty-five years ago that the North and South would stand shoulder to shoulder and sing Yankee Doodle until, you cannot tell the difference? On the same field where two famous battles were fought are encamped today, over the graves of dead heroes, an army of 40,000 American freemen from all parts of the United States, devoting life and soul to the preservation of our flag. Never was there a more just war than this. We hear talk about the tradition of our country against annexing territory, and of the words of the father of his country; but we must consider the different circumstances under which he then spoke; and when he said "avoid entanglements with other nations," did he dream that we would cross the Mississippi and take the Louisiana plantation, or Mexico and Texas? Then leap over British Columbia and take a land equal to one-third of the United States, or that our population would ever reach one-twentieth of the world? When it was proposed to take Florida, more than half of our people opposed it, and on that splendid peninsula today, if they have not already departed, is the army which is to invade and occupy Cuba. So it has been with every country which we have annexed. As for California, God bless her, she can speak for herself. The American power of assimilation and digestion is ample for all those who wish to come under protection of its flag.

"Another good thing being brought about by this war will be the completion of the Nicaraguan Canal, which will be done in the next eight years, the expense of which is nothing compared to the agony of our American people as that splendid ship, the Oregon, wended its way so many days through such danger of being taken by the enemy before she could reach other ships of her class. Today we want the canal for war. 'The wind bloweth where it listeth,' but coal dust, and we'll have to get it, for which there must be outposts to protect us. We are no longer isolated, and our immense commerce upon the seas would have been taken before this if it had not been for the English people. We are getting around to the front side of the lion and will be ready to shake his paw. Sooner or later we shall see an alliance of these two great nations for honesty of government and together we can whip the world."

At the conclusion of General Barnes' address, Professor Waterman presented the class to President Robertson, who made a short speech and then distributed the diplomas.

The class gave their yell both before the exercises and at the close, like this:

Boom-a-lacka,
Boom-a-lacka,
Bow wow wow;
Ching-a-lacka,
Ching-a-lacka,
Chow, Chow, Chow,

Entered at Berkeley Post Office as Second-class matter

THERE is no snow at Santiago de Cuba, but a Schley is not a bad thing to have if you are going to do business there now.

WHEN Schley fully satisfied himself of the situation he remarked: "I have got them, and they will never get home." Then he went to breakfast and next day it rained—shot and shell.

ADMIRAL SAMPSON may not gain many laurels as a fighter or "harbor corker," but he is ahead about $35,000 as his share of the prize captures of his fleet. He has some glory and considerable cash.

LEITER, the Chicago grain gambler who has recently put by a few millions on manufactured margins, ought to be listed with the heavy weights, instead of the Leiter But then he's not worth troubling about; he just has plenty of money, that's all.

To appoint a man who shaves perfectly clean, not even wearing a mustache, to the judicial seat so lately vacated by Judge Campbell and his famous whiskers, says the San Francisco Bulletin, seems almost like taking chances on invalidating in advance the business to be hereafter done in that court.

THE disaster to the Schooner Jane Gray, enroute to Alaska, by which thirty-four lives were lost is almost a repetition of the Coffin-ship Almy. She seems to have been an ill-fated vessel, usually in trouble, and finally parted her seams in mid-ocean, in a mild storm, and snuffed out nearly two score lives. But the craze for Alaskan gold may yet cause some to attempt the voyage in a tub.

THEY ARE SMALL BUT NEAT.

The improvement in the appearance of the small parks at the station on Shattuck avenue has been marked in a few weeks. Many light and uncomplimentary things have been said of these parks, and the fund of ridicule has been exhausted and apparently wasted on them; but today they speak for themselves and they are really becoming beauty spots in the center of Berkeley. It will not be long until the man who dares take the name of these parks in vain, or make sport of their appearance, will have serious trouble on his hands—or head; and then those who do business about Shattuck and Center streets will want to vote their defender a pension.

The action of the recently adjourned Republican leagues in placing themselves on record as upholding the noble work of the Red Cross organization will meet with universal approval. Nor did they simply repeat fine phrases; they chose rather to give their endorsement a more substantial turn and donated $50.

The potent sway of these useful workers is obtaining general public recognition. Our own people especially have a chance to witness their beneficent influence over the weary, travel-stained soldier who lands in our midst, a stranger in a strange land. They make his apprenticeship short; his coming is more like that of an expected relative, and his welcome is wholehearted and true.

REPUBLICANS AWAKE.

The last campaign resulted in a victory for the Republican party; there seems to be no reasonable doubt that victory will again, in the approaching campaign, perch upon its banner. Indeed there are many reasons why it should. First, and most important of all, the principles that it advocates, as well as those that it puts into effective practice, are best calculated to promote the general welfare of State and Nation.

Republicans of our own commonwealth have renewed their allegiance to the St. Louis platform; they could not have done better. That platform today triumphs from ocean to ocean. Converts are daily flocking to its support, and to the banner of its wise and patient leader, President McKinley. Disorganization stalks boldly through the ranks of opposing parties. Democrats behold with dismay their venerable party divided against itself, while all around them is the bustling activity of an approaching conflict.

Populists—oh, where are they? Some say in a padded cell. Their wild schemes—financial and industrial—grow wilder as the days go by. Benjamin Disraeli, England's great Conservative leader, once said of his party that it was taking a leap in the dark. The Populists have taken just such a leap; fortunately they have for companions none save themselves. Strike bottom soon, and strike it hard they must, and then? the pieces will be too small and too numerous for collection.

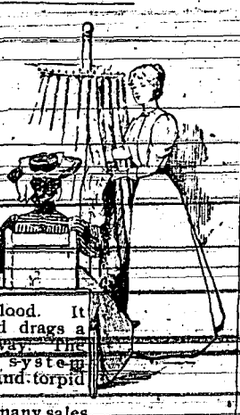
The Council of Republican Leagues just adjourned in San Francisco demonstrated that the party there represented would stand shoulder to shoulder in this fall's battle of votes. True, there are many political aspirants, especially for the office of chief executive, but this is a sign of strength, not weakness. If the prospects of victory were less encouraging, there would be fewer candidates. But what is especially gratifying is the unalterable determination of individual candidates to stand by the successful nominee. This is as it should be; unselfishness after all is a jewel in the crown of virtues.

Departing Date Not Fixed.

"How are things running in the Caribbean sea?" inquired the Spanish official.

"Well," replied the other, "Cervera arrived all right, but I guess we'll have to revise the time table with reference to the departing."

"How did you get your boy out of the notion of going to war?" "I told him to go, by all means—it would save me the necessity of buying a wheel. I'd use his."—Chicago Tribune.



Girls who have to stand on their feet most of the time work as hard as any day-laborer yet they do not get what is rightly called exercise. Close, confining, indoor occupation gives no exhilaration to the nervous system nor active circulation to the blood. It wears, tears and drags a woman's life away. The whole physical system grows sluggish and torpid under it.

No wonder so many sales girls and factory girls and housewives suffer from indigestion and constipation and bilious troubles. No wonder they are subject to the diseases of the delicate special organism of their sex. The wonder is rather that they can stand it as well as they do.

But "a poor weak woman," as she is termed, will endure bravely and patiently agonies which a strong man would give way under. The fact is women are more patient than they ought to be under such troubles.

Every woman ought to know that she may obtain the most eminent medical advice free of charge and in absolute confidence and privacy by writing to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. Occupying this position for thirty years he has had a wider practical experience in the treatment of women's diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-famous for their astonishing efficacy.

The most perfect remedy ever devised for weak and delicate women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. His "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only permanent digestive and nutrient tonic. The two medicines taken alternately, form the most perfect and successful course of treatment ever prescribed for female troubles complicated with a sluggish, overwrought, nervous, diseased constitution. In severe constipation Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be occasionally taken with the others. They never gripe.

FONG DAMAGE SUIT DECIDED.

VERDICT FOR $1728 AWARDED PLAINTIFFS.

Walter Ngon Fong and Wife Well Known in Berkeley.

Few young people of Berkeley have excited more curiosity than Walter Ngon Fong and his young American wife, Emma E. Fong. Both are prominent in University circles, and both have also taken an active part in church work. They are members of the Methodist Episcopal Church and seem to take an especial interest in the devotional exercises of the Young People's Christian Endeavor Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Fong came into public notice a year ago when they brought suit against Goldberg, Bowen & Co., San Francisco, for alleged damages due to the publication of some verses which appeared in a trade circular called 'Domestic Art," issued by that firm. Damages were claimed to the amount of $10,000.

Mr. Fong's complaint recited that the verses pretended to give a description of his marriage with a white woman, and that the language employed held him up to the public contempt and scorn, besides seriously hurting his feelings. The verses to which he objected were as follows:

I sing a celestial sing-song
(Bring a gong!)
Of the wooing of Mister Ngong Fong
(Ding the gong!)
And the love of a maid
Of a paler shade,
Whose regard for her Ngong
Was so strong
(Aw g'long)
That she sighed to become Mrs. Fong.

So they fed
At a spread
With joss sticks red,
And seventeen different kinds of bread,
And with hugs and with kisses
This Mr. and Mrs.
Ngong Fong
Mid ding-dong
And sing-song
Were wed.

Now, Mr. and Mrs. Ngong Fong
(Was it wrong?)
Acquired a deep longing so strong
For Hong Kong
That they packed up their tin,
Bought berths for Pekin,
Rubbed noses—"so long"—
With Wing Tong,
Keng Wong,
And all others ending in Ong.

And one day
In May
They sailed away
To the land of pinks and chinks and "tay,"
And mid manifold blisses
Dwelt Mr. and Mrs.
Ngong Eong—
The bong-tong
Of Hong Kong,
Well—say!

The case came up for trial yesterday in department 5 of the Superior Court of San Francisco.

The proceedings were frequently interrupted by merriment caused by Mr. Fong's replies to questions propounded by the lawyers. He testified that he became acquainted with Miss Emma Ellen Howse while he was attending Stanford University, and that their friendship developed into an affection which ripened into their marriage. As the laws of California would not permit the issuance of a marriage license to persons born as they were, it became necessary for them to go to some state where there was no legal barrier, and consequently they went to Colorado. They were married in June, 1897, and the article complained of was published by the defendants in September of the same year.

Thomas V. Cator, attorney for plaintiffs, made an eloquent appeal on behalf of his clients. He contended that the law was clearly on the side of the plaintiffs, and so thought the jurors; the latter, however, were disposed to reduce the amount claimed as damages. After being out a short time they returned a verdict in favor of Mr. Fong to the amount of $17.28. In deciding on this odd sum they added together the figures set down by each member of the jury and divided the total by twelve.

As pleasant a home as any in Berkeley is that of Mr. and Mrs. Fong, 1728 Delaware street. Many diplomas of graduation awarded to each by educational institutions hang upon the walls. One has but to glance around to see that the young couple are intellectually inclined. They take great pride in their books, pictures, etc.

Miss Emma E. Howse was born in Ontario, Canada, in 1875. She came to California with her parents while yet a small girl. Her preparatory education was received in the Girls' High School and Commercial High School of San Francisco. In 1894 she entered Stanford University where she first met her future husband, Walter Ngon Fong. Her parents now reside at Palo Alto, but her father does a mercantile business in San Francisco.

Mr. Fong was born in 1866 in the province of Canton, China. He received his early training in Chinese schools, coming to this country in 1881 to complete his education. For seven years he attended school in Los Angeles. In 1889 he entered the preparatory department of the University of the Pacific, and in 1892 Stanford University. He graduated from the department of economics and law of that institution in 1896, and the next year entered the State University to pursue a course in natural science and engineering.

"I am fitting myself for civil engineering and diplomatic service in my own country," said Mr. Fong, when seen this morning by a GAZETTE reporter. "We young men of the Orient, more if possible than those of other countries, have to provide ourselves with an all-round education if we would be successful in our own rapidly developing country." Mr. and Mrs. Fong expect to spend another year in Berkeley.
